

Fall Economic Outlook Conference

Presentation By

Hosted By Load Forecasting, NYISO

Dear Market Participants,

I am pleased to invite you to the Fall Economic Outlook Conference on October 10, 2002 at the NYISO facilities:

Conference Room - WA
290 Washington Avenue Extension
Albany, New York.

There will be lunch at noon. The conference will start at 12.45 to 4.30 PM.

The Load Forecasting Task Force typically uses the fall conference as a springboard for the following year ICAP forecast. Nonetheless, the conference is open to all market participants and to anyone interested. There is no charge. Celia Chen, PhD and Steve Cochran, PhD from Economy.com will cover the U.S. and New York economies, as well as the NY metro areas.

Questions are always encouraged. The previous conferences have been lively and insightful. A lot of economic issues will be discussed, including:

- Whether or not the business sector is in a recession,
- A double dip recession?
- Is the housing market bubble about to burst?
- How are the New York Metro areas doing?
- What are the risks to the recovery?

Please send me an email to confirm your attendance.
