Re: Notice of the Expedited Deliverability Study BSM Evaluation Treatment

Dear Stakeholders:

As noticed on February 18, 2020, the start date for the first Expedited Deliverability Study (EDS) will be March 20, 2020 (EDS Start Date).

For projects requesting Capacity Resource Interconnection Service (CRIS) in a Mitigated Capacity Zone to be eligible to enter the EDS, the Developer must have satisfied the data submission requirements set forth in Section 23.4.5.7.3.6 of the Market Administration and Services Tariff (“Services Tariff”) and have such data submission deemed complete by the ISO by the EDS Start Date.

An Examined Facility in the Expedited Deliverability Study starting on March 20, 2020 will be evaluated pursuant to the buyer-side market power mitigation tariff provisions (“BSM Rules”) in the Services Tariff. The NYISO presents numerical examples with narrative explanations to clarify, in general, how the buyer-side market power mitigation (BSM) tests and Offer Floor calculations are implemented in its BSM Narrative and Numerical Example Updated May 17, 2018. The starting capability year of the Mitigation Study Period for facilities being evaluated in the Expedited Deliverability Study will be the same as the starting capability year for Examined Facilities in the on-going Class Year.

If you have questions regarding this request, you may contact Christina Duong via email at CDuong@nyiso.com or telephone at 518-356-6073.

Sincerely,

/s/ Shaun Johnson
