

NYISO Transmission Reliability Margin (TRM) and Capacity Benefit Margin (CBM) Used in Determining Available Transfer Capability

The following table of Interface Margins is used in the NYISO Real-Time and Day-Ahead Markets. These margins apply to the hourly periods evaluated for the current day and the next day. In addition, the TRMs included in the following table shall be the same for the six days following the current day and for each of the next twelve months. These margins shall be in effect starting on June 21, 2023 and shall remain in effect until revised by the NYISO.
