Adam Evans (DPS) Statement:

I'd like to take the opportunity to say that I acknowledge and appreciate the additional efforts that have gone into developing the section 205 filings under consideration by the NYISO and the Transmission Owners. I know that a number of people worked diligently on this over the past few days under a fast moving and compressed timeline. The latest changes by the NYISO represent progress and acknowledge DPS staff's concerns at this time by recognizing and accounting for the New York State PSC's already ongoing proceeding to address large load interconnections and thus we do not object to your 205-proposal moving forward, although we reserve the right to raise issues once we have an ability to fully review the entire proposal that is filed with FERC.
